

WHO WE ARE

With a history going back more than 50 years, gsmprjct° is a pioneer and major player in the field of exhibition design and production. We believe that each project is a collaborative exploration leading to a unique outcome, and the results speak for themselves. Our portfolio is a rich and varied collection of international exhibition environments that crosses mediums and spans disciplines: from museums to observation decks, from ancient civilizations to contemporary art, from science to business to culture, and everything in between.

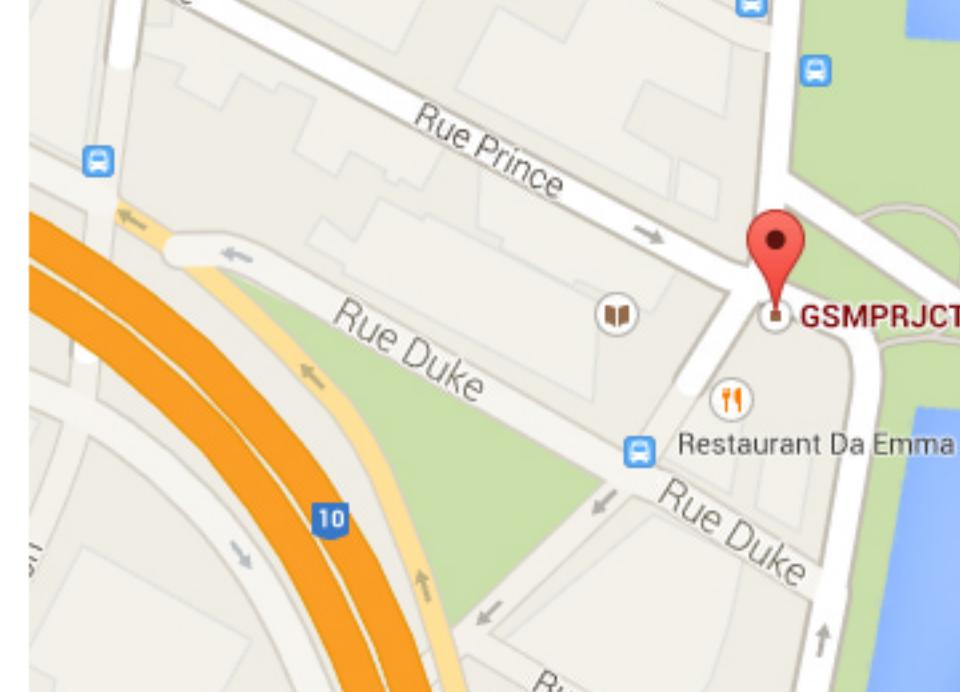

WHAT WE DO

Much more than just a design firm, gsmprjct° is the complete package. From the earliest steps in the development process to the operation and production of blockbuster visitor experiences, we're equipped to do it all.
